

Reseller Packages

Let us do the hard work for you

Our reseller packages allow you to bundle web hosting and email facilities with the services that you offer without having to worry about maintaining any infrastructure.

Our control panels allow you to easily set up new accounts on the fly, or you can simply contact your personal account manager directly and we'll do it all for you. Your branded control panel allows you to manage all of your customers' services, or alternatively give them the control to do it themselves.

We can customise and brand your control panel for you, set up your own name servers, mail and FTP servers... in fact we can provide you with a completely transparent virtual hosting business.

And of course by becoming a reseller you can achieve significant cost savings by bundling all of your sites together. Unlike some other providers, we bundle your quotas across all of your web sites, which means that you can host both small and large web sites side by side without having to pay for excess usage.
