

Where is my control panel?

For sites hosted on our linux server, you can access your site control panel by typing:

`www.yourdomain.com/admin`

into a web browser. Individual users (e.g. users with mailboxes only) can access their webmail, change their passwords and so forth using:

`www.yourdomain.com/user`

You can access either control panel by going to the following URL:

`http://lx2.blueskyhost.net`

You can also use the "Login" page to log into any control panel.

Users whose sites are hosted on our Windows server need to access the linux server to manage their email. They can get to their control panel either using "lx2.blueskyhost.net" or "mail.yourdomain.com".

Note that "yourdomain.com" as used above is intended to refer to your full domain name, e.g.: news.com.au, ferrari.it, amazon.com, epilepsy.org.au. Note that the "www's" are not part of the actual domain name.