

Windows Media Streaming services

Our Windows 2000 server is currently running Windows Media Streaming and Encoding services.

We currently have a couple of web sites using this feature to stream video on demand.

This service is available to all customers subject to setup costs and bandwidth constraints.