

Outages on www.blueskyhost.com

We are currently rebooting www.blueskyhost.com. This may take a short while.

We expect this server to be back up very shortly and we apologise for any inconvenience. This would affect a large number of our web hosting and email customers, and may also disrupt statistical reports for a day or so.

This server also experienced a brief outage last night as it was blocked due to some allegations regarding SPAM that had been made against one of our hosted web sites.
